

Chan Hei Man, Hilary 6A

Get lost?

Have you ever got lost before? Believing most people have gotten lost before, possibly, including you, who are reading. This story is about a little girl called Ann who got lost.

One day, Grandmother brought mischievous Ann to the park behind their home. Ann is lively and active, and she always plays hide-and-seek with others. Suddenly, a woman came into the park and said, 'Ann's grandmother, we haven't seen each other for a long time. Shall we talk?' Then, they started chatting.

As Grandmother concentrated on chatting, she had forgotten Ann - her granddaughter. She didn't notice that Ann had run away to another place. After a while, Grandmother alerted that Ann was missing. At that time, Grandmother felt scared and pitiful. She worried about Ann. A lot of different possibilities floated in her mind. For example, 'Will Ann be kidnapped?', 'What is Ann facing now?' 'Is Ann afraid now?'. Grandmother was running while thinking.

Unfortunately, Grandmother couldn't find Ann. She took heavy steps walking home; she felt distressed and flustered. She didn't know how to face the family. She didn't know a surprise was waiting for her when she opened the door. She saw Ann was watching TV on the sofa, and she yelled angrily, 'Ann, why did you go back home first?'

Finally, Ann said sorry to Grandmother and promised not to run away alone. This story teaches us that we should be careful and tell someone before we leave.

Chan Lok Ting Cayden 6A

Forget to Bring Things

Yesterday, after eating breakfast. Mom asked Mike, 'Have you packed your schoolbag yet?'

Mike was fidgeting as he answered, 'I have not packed my schoolbag yet.'

Then mom said, 'Now instantly, pack your schoolbag quickly!'

Then Mike hurried to go to school and said goodbye to his mom. On the way to the bus stop, he saw that the bus to school was leaving, so he ran to catch the bus or else he would be late for school.

The bus driver stopped the bus and let Mike get on it. On the bus, he forgot to bring his Octopus card and coin purse. He immediately took out his mobile phone and called his mother and embarrassingly said, 'Can you bring my Octopus card and coin purse to me please?' Every passenger on the bus looked at him. He said sorry to everyone and felt regretful about not bringing his Octopus card and coin purse because everyone had to wait for him because of this.

After the call, she ran quickly to the bus stop and gave him his things. She was speechless about this. He promised his mom to be more careful and said, 'I am very sorry mom, I will not be a careless boy again.'

Finally, he was very upset. Through this experience, Mike has learned to become more responsible and careful.

Chan Chun Hei, Angus 6A

Where are you?

Yesterday, Granddaughter and her grandma went to a park. When Grandma was talking to someone, Granddaughter went to play hide-and-seek.

After Grandma finished talking, Grandma couldn't find her granddaughter. She was worrying about her granddaughter because she thought her granddaughter was kidnapped by traffickers or encountered an accident.

Grandma searched around in the park, but she still couldn't find her granddaughter. Suddenly, her granddaughter came back.

After that, Granddaughter said, 'I am the winner of the hide-and-seek!'

Grandma laughed and said, 'Amy, I am frightened about you disappearing. Can you don't walk around alone? I will follow you next time.'

Kayden Mak 6A

Kelly was lost!

Yesterday, Kelly and her grandmother went to the park. They were joyful because they could play together.

Initially, Kelly and her grandmother were playing on the swing, but their neighbor Miss Chan came to the park too. Kelly's grandmother started chatting with Miss Chan.

Ten minutes later, Kelly's grandmother noticed Kelly was lost. She felt upset and flustered. She started looking for Kelly, and Miss Chan said, 'I want to help too!'.

Kelly's grandmother said, 'Okay! Let's go!' Luckily, they found Kelly in the public toilet. They felt very happy.

Finally, Kelly's grandmother has learned to pay close attention to Kelly and promised to be more careful when taking care of Kelly. They went home happily.

Lai Cheuk Yu, Jaden 6A

The Worst English Test

Last week, Amy watched TV for a long time, so she couldn't sleep enough.

However, tomorrow was the English test.

In the English test, when Amy was writing an answer, she was too sleepy, so she fell asleep suddenly. Therefore, she didn't write anything at last.

After the English test, her English teacher Miss Chan found her and took her to the teacher's room immediately. When they went to the teacher's room, Miss Chan told Amy that she was a clever girl but quite lazy and that if she could be more hard-working, her exam marks could have been better.

After Amy heard Miss Chan's words, she became more hard-working, and her grades improved. She passed the entrance exam and got into her favourite secondary school.

Chan Yiu, Catherine 6A

In a Hurry

'Vincent! Wake up!!! You're going to be extremely late for school. Get up right THIS INSTANT!' shouted his mom. Vincent woke up sleepily. He looked at his clock and found out it was half past seven already.

'Half past seven ALREADY?' said Vincent.

'Yes! Now get your butt down here!' replied his mom. He quickly got off his bed and changed into his uniform.

When Vincent was walking down the stairs, he remembered that he hadn't packed his schoolbag yet. When he was downstairs, he just stuffed a piece of bread in his mouth while he was packing his schoolbag in a hurry. When he thought he had finished packing everything, he rushed out of the door, saying goodbye to his mom at the same time. He ran as fast as he could in hopes of catching up to the bus.

On the fortunate side, he was able to catch up with the bus. On the other hand, when he was packing earlier, he forgot to take his Octopus card nor his coin purse. But it was way too late when he found out. When he tried to explain the situation and told the bus driver how desperately he needed to go to school right now, the bus driver didn't listen. So that forced Vincent to walk to school.

When he arrived at school, it was already past eight o'clock, beyond the time he was supposed to arrive. That causes him not only to be late for school just because of his messy packing, but also get into trouble with his teachers. At least, Vincent learned a lesson to always make sure to pack all the necessary things before sleeping.

Yau Tsz Shing, Kevin

The Worst English Test

Last week, Angela didn't study and constantly watched the football World Cup the night before the exam. Her mom was worried about Angela, so she said, 'Angela, you watched TV since seven o'clock. It is nine o'clock now! You should study for the exam.' However, Mom's advice fell on deaf ears, and Angela kept watching TV.

On the second day, Angela slept on the desk during the exam because she felt sleepy. Miss Lee felt strange for her. Five minutes left, Angela woke up, and she felt flustered. She hastily did the exam paper, but she didn't know the answer to the questions! She blamed herself.

After the exam, Miss Lee called Angela to the Teacher's Room. Miss Lee asked, 'Why did you sleep during the exam?' Angela felt ashamed and upset. She said, 'I...I watched the football World Cup last night.'

'What? You should study hard before the exam!' said Miss Lee. Angela was speechless. 'You should study harder.' said Miss Lee.

Finally, Angela studied harder before the second exam. She is now ecstatic because she got full marks on the second exam!

Hui Chun Yu, Vick 6A

Get late

Today, Ken woke up late because the clock broke down. Initially, he packed his schoolbag quickly because he did not want to be late. As quick as a flash, he had packed his schoolbag already. However, his mum was as angry as a tiger and shouted at him, 'Ken, you should wake up early and packed your schoolbag yesterday. You should go to school NOW!'

Ken ate breakfast and wore the uniform very fast. After he wore the uniform, he hurried up to say goodbye to his mum. He waited at the bus stop, and after a while, a bus arrived.

However, when he went on the bus, he couldn't find his Octopus card or coin purse. Then, he was scared like a mouse and said to the bus driver, 'Sor...sorry, I... I can't find my Octopus card or coin purse.' The bus driver said, 'You must get off when you can't find your Octopus card or purse.'

Finally, he got off the bus and went to school quickly like a train, but he was late. His teacher was as angry as a lion and shouted at him, 'Ken! PLEASE COME TO SCHOOL quickly and wake up EARLY!' Ken said very sadly, 'OK, I'll not be late again.'

Ho Chiu Wing, Rose 6A

Grandma lost Kitty

Have you ever lost something? One morning, Grandma took Kitty to a park near their house. Kitty felt excited. She loves playing on the swing, and she couldn't wait to play the swing. When she arrived at the park, she ran to the swing to play. Then Grandma went to talk with Kitty's aunt.

Suddenly, Grandma found out that Kitty had disappeared! Normally if Kitty finished playing on the swing, she would look for Grandma, but now she is gone! Grandma was regretful and said, 'If I look after Kitty, she will not disappear.'

Grandma asked Kitty's aunt to look for Kitty together. They tried to look for Kitty, but they couldn't find Kitty. Finally, when Grandma was extremely upset, Kitty showed up. 'Where have you been?' asked Grandma worriedly.

Kitty answered, 'I went to the cake shop to buy you a cake because it is your birthday, Grandma!' Grandma couldn't believe that Kitty remembered her birthday, so she was touched.

'Thank you for buying me a birthday cake, Kitty.' said Grandma.

'You're welcome.' answered Kitty.

Xiong Lok Yee, Christy 6A

We Can't Sleep at School

Yesterday, Winnie decided to go to bed late. She played electronic games for the whole night! Her mom came in and said, 'Don't sleep too late! You will have the English exam tomorrow!' But Winnie didn't listen because she thought that she had done enough revisions for the English exam.

Today, during the exam in the morning, Winnie slept because she was too tired. Miss Wong came over to her and woke her up. Miss Wong asked, 'Why did you sleep during the exam?' 'Because I...I played games for the whole night...' cried Winnie. 'Okay, then, I'll forgive you, but you must promise me not to do that again,' said Miss Wong.

'OK,' said Winnie, 'I promise.'

After that day, Winnie changed herself. Mum asked her why, and Winnie said, 'Because I've learned that I should not be overconfident. I should study more and listen to your advice,' Her Mum was very grateful and thankful to Miss Wong. Now, Winnie has become a hard-working girl!

Wong Yan Ching, Yan 6A

Grandma Lost Amy

Yesterday was Sunday. Amy was bored, so Grandma took Amy to the park.

When they got to the park, Amy was excited because she saw the swing. When Amy was playing on the swing, Grandma was talking to her friend.

Suddenly, Grandma couldn't find Amy. Grandma was flustered. She looked for Amy anywhere.

Finally, Amy was just being mischievous. When Grandma wanted to call the police, Amy came out immediately. Amy was hiding behind the slide, and she wanted to give a surprise to Grandma, but it was unsuccessful.

Yam Po Yan 6A

Study hard-working

Recently Mary often went to bed very late, she watched TV at night and often said 'wow! Good! Ha!'

'Mary, go to sleep!' her mum said 'you need to have an exam tomorrow!'

'I will go to sleep after the episode!' said Mary. 'Hurry up, please!' said her mum.

'Got it. You are too annoying!' Mary said in a mean way to her mum.

The next day, Mary went back to school and had an exam. In the exam, Mary was sleepy; she only did a small part and fell asleep on the table. The teacher felt helpless when the teacher saw Mary like this.

A day later, the test results came out, and Mary only got 25 marks in the exam. Mary was upset about that.

When she got home, Mary was scolded by her mum. Mary decided to study hard; she no longer stays up late watching TV, and she concentrates in class.

Finally, in the second exam, Mary got 100 marks. Mary was surprised. She happily and cheerfully told her mum. Her mum was relieved when she found out that Mary had done a great job.

Adia 6C

Fake Kidnap

Last Sunday, Grandma took Mary to the park, so Mary was excited about it. They travelled to the park together. Mary went to play after Grandma said she could go. When Mary was playing normally, a friend of Grandma saw Grandma and had a nice little chat with Grandma.

After that, as fast as a flash, Mary was gone after the nice little chat. Grandma had looked for her for a while. Where is Mary? Who took her away? Grandma was a bit worried about Mary, and then Grandma saw a stranger wearing a cap. The stranger was a fat person, and she was taking a little girl who looked like Mary out of the park. Grandma stopped her and took off her cap, and she was Mary's mother, and Grandma asked Mary's mother, 'Why did you come back so early today?'

Mary's mother said, 'Cause today is your BD, Mom!'

Lee Ka Yau, Angela Baby 6E

Dora was missing!

In the morning, Dora was getting bored, so Grandma took her to the park.

At the park, Dora was very excited; it was her first time playing on the swing!

While she was playing on the swing, she wanted to go to the toilet. However, Dora didn't tell her grandma that she went to the toilet; guess what happened next?

We'll see! Grandma was looking at her phone while a lady came and talked to her for an hour. The lady looks like grandma's friend. They talked for an hour until the lady said, 'Oops! It's time to pick up my child. We can talk later if I have time, bye!' The lady ran away quickly.

In the afternoon, Grandma and Dora planned to go back home; when Grandma called Dora her name, Dora didn't answer because she had gone to the toilet. Grandma was scared and upset because she thought Dora was kidnapped.

She looked everywhere, everyplace, and even more! Grandma was about to call the police. Suddenly, Dora came back! Grandma hugged her tightly. Grandma thought she had lost Dora! 'You scared me. Next time, please tell me when you go to the toilet, and also, I'm very sorry for not keeping an eye on you,' said Grandma.

'It's fine. I'm also sorry for not telling you that I went to the toilet.' said Dora. The end of this story tells us that we should not go anywhere without telling our parents.

Chan Tsz Yi, Queenie

Grandma lost her granddaughter

Last Friday after school, Grandma took her granddaughter Jenny to the park. Jenny was very excited. She pointed to the swing and couldn't wait to play on it. She asked Grandma if she could play on the swing. Then Grandma nodded and said, 'Of course.'

When Jenny was playing on the swing, her grandma met her neighbour. When they saw each other, they were surprised. They began to talk. The tragedy happened at this time.

After they finished talking, Grandma turned around and found that Jenny had suddenly disappeared. She immediately looked around and couldn't find her.

Grandma began to feel regretful. She thought Jenny was lost.

After Grandma's persistent efforts, she finally found her in a nearby restaurant. This is her favorite restaurant. When they saw each other, Jenny had already cried her eyes out. Grandma said, 'I won't take you to play. You are so mischievous.' Finally, they went home happily together.

Tai Ka Ka, Winnie 6D

Bad Day

I got up late today because I played games until 12 o'clock yesterday and went to bed. Immediately after breakfast, I suddenly remembered that I hadn't packed my schoolbag yet. I ran back to the room, picked up a few books, and supplies and books on various subjects, but I was afraid of being scolded by the teacher when I was late, so I didn't hear my mother's reminder and continued to pack my schoolbag.

After packing my schoolbag, I hurriedly put on my uniform, said goodbye to my mother with a worried face, and left home.

When I got to the bus stop, I waited for a long time for the bus to arrive. On the bus, I got impatient several times and got angry there. After a while, I finally got on the bus. However, when I wanted to take out my Octopus card from my schoolbag, I couldn't find it. After searching and searching, I felt that other people were watching me, and I felt very embarrassed; my face was red like a rose. Fortunately, I remembered that I could give coins, so I started looking for my wallet, but I found that I had forgotten to bring my coin purse, and I felt very flustered.

Finally, I ran home and picked up my Octopus card. My mother sighed when she saw me. She knew I would forget to bring something. After I got the Octopus card, I ran out to wait for the bus. However, I was late for school and didn't bring my Visual Arts supplies and some books, so I was scolded by the teacher, and I was upset. I promise I'll never leave everything until the last minute again.